

Spread of outcomes across intervention values

China factor relative to media, by wave

Above the dashed line, the China factor moves DPP share more than media

The ratio declines monotonically, but not because the China factor weakens: its absolute effect peaks in 2020, consistent with the Hong Kong shock. The ratio falls because media effects grow faster, roughly doubling across the period.